You may be aware of some of your skills and/or talents, but do you know what your "core gift" is? Core Gifts is an old idea which says that each person comes into the world with the ability and desire to make a certain kind of contribution to the world around him/her. Identifying your unique and worthwhile gift can be a significant reason to keep moving forward, can lay the foundation for hope and motivate you in your recovery help others identify their strengths too!

This training is sponsored by the Department of Mental Health. This training is prioritized for the STAY Together Implementation Grant Community Service Agencies (CSA), Young Adult Groups (YAG'S) membership, and potential and hired Young Adult Peer Mentors who are employed by Gandara, Community Health Link (CHL), Wayside, Justice Resource Institute (JRI), Children's Friends and Family Services (CFF) and The Home for Little Wanderers.
